

Sex beneath the book cover Old black magic on the Beeb A stint in the salt mines Plus 11 pages of jobs page 23

Death and the Terry Wogan
lifebelt
page 35

Gordon Brown on Mr Heseltine's industrial grounds for a walk-out Derek Brown on Kabul: lawless, chaotic and broke page 21

Reichmann of Olympia and York: a bond and the bind page 19

40p
Monday
May 11
1992
Published in London and Manchester

The Guardian

Lloyd's to bale out its 'names'

Companies may be admitted in plan to boost reserves

Alex Brummer
Financial Editor

LLOYD'S of London, soon to announce unprecedented losses, is in legal negotiations with Michael Heseltine's Department of Trade...

allegations of insider favouritism, to the courts.
With the results from most of Lloyd's largest underwriting syndicates now in for the 1989 underwriting year it is understood... sting out of losses by names in the 1988 and 1989 underwriting years. There are even suggestions that the line could be drawn...

Benchmark... John Major at home at Great Stukeley, near Huntingdon, with the next chairman of the Conservative Party

PHOTOGRAPH: SEAN SMITH

Tories braced for sweeping reforms under Fowler

Michael White
Political Editor

OFFICIALS at Conservative Central Office were last night braced for sweeping changes in the party's organisation and personnel... improve relations with the separate Scottish party hierarchy, while Tim Smith and Andrew Mitchell become vice-chairmen...

Labour, which faces increasing reluctance to pay up from unions which are losing revenue and losing patience, made 50 temporary staff redundant...

Kong, where Mr Patten is to be governor.
Noting that the election was said to have been won "in spite of Central Office and not be cause of it" the Charter Group... as he woos back recession-hit donors is that MPs on the Commons public accounts committee (PAC) look set to demand publication of a National Audit Office report on alleged bribes...

Anguish as Armenians tear out Karabakh's heart

Eyewitness
Jonathan Steele
in Baku

THEY STOOD in small groups under the trees outside the headquarters of the Popular Front, perhaps 300 people in all, anxiously waiting to know if Shusha's fall was really true.

it would be the body blow to Azerbaijan in the four-year war of Karabakh.
The Azerbaijanis in the square outside the Popular Front sensed it well enough.

Friday night. Four other wounded soldiers lay in the same small ward.
"The attack was quite unexpected," he said. At about 2am there had been heavy shelling...

Carey attacks top pay awards at church service for business

Financial staff

THE Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr George Carey, yesterday criticised directors and top executives who awarded themselves excessive pay rises despite the recession.

senior executives. Massive individual pay rises during a recession do not encourage public support for wealth creation.
The purpose of industry was to create goods and services to meet the community's needs. "It is not to make money for its own sake."

News in brief

- Britain helps EC
write secrets law Senior Cabinet Office staff are assisting European Community administrators to draw up its first secrecy laws. Page 22 Howard accused Environmentalists were united yesterday in accusing the Environment Secretary, Michael Howard, of lining up behind the Americans to weaken the UN convention to combat global warming. Page 3 10 tries for Offiah Wigan's Martin Offiah scored 10 tries in a record-breaking 74-6 humiliation of Leeds yesterday.
Page 15
24 die in poll violence Twenty four people died yesterday in violence associated with today's elections in the Philippines. Page 9
Rival attractions Rival take-over suitors for Midland Bank are putting their cases to politicians this week. Page 10 Charter initiative
A new initiative on the Citizen's Charter and the reform of Whitehall is to be announced next month. Page 2

This year we're turning money envelopes into seed packets.

Form for Christian Aid Week, including fields for Name, Address, Postcode, and donation amount options.

9 770261 307019